

DONATE TO PWN AND WIN THIS ORIGINAL PAINTING

Sea Mist at the Sonoma Coast - by Lewis S Blevins Jr.

About the painting and the artist:

Dr. Blevins is PWN cofounder and Medical Director of the California Center for Pituitary Disorders at UCSF. He is also an accomplished artist celebrated for his unique style with elements of impressionism and the evolving features of the colorist movement. This painting, "Sea Mist at the Sonoma Coast," showcases an early morning scene on the northern California coast. You can see more of his work here.

How to Enter

When you donate $50.00 or more between now and September 30, you'll automatically be entered to win this tremendous original oil on canvas painting by Dr. Lewis Blevins. Every dollar contributes directly to our mission to inform and educate so more people are diagnosed properly and early.

Here's how:

Donate: go to pituitaryworldnews.org

Each donation automatically enters you in the drawing (the more times you donate, the higher your chances of winning)

Support our mission. Learn more about how your contributions help our mission to inform and educate.

Why Your Donation Matters:

Pituitary World News is indispensable in supporting the public by offering comprehensive education and information about pituitary diseases. Through its diverse resources and initiatives, PWN enhances understanding, promotes awareness, and fosters a supportive community. As a result, PWN improves individual patient outcomes and contributes to the broader effort of advancing education and advocacy.

Your donation helps us develop additional resources to grow the number of people we reach and facilitates the production of more programs that help inform people with pituitary disease. Importantly, it helps to increase awareness so that more people are diagnosed sooner, thereby improving quality of life and drastically reducing costs.

Every donation propels us closer to achieving our goals and making a tangible difference in the lives of those we serve. Download this brochure to learn more about our plans for 2024 and beyond.

How it works:

1. Visit Our Donation Page: Go to pituitaryworldnews.org and click on the donate button.
2. Complete Your Donation: Follow the easy steps to donate securely online.
3. Stay Tuned: After donating, you'll receive a confirmation email. The winner will be announced at the end of September through an announcement on social media, email, and the PWN website.

Additional Benefits:

Beyond the chance to win a beautiful painting, all donors will receive:

- Updates: Regular updates on our projects and success stories, showing exactly how your donation is being put to good use.
- Exclusive Content: Invitations to special events, newsletters, and early access to our future campaigns.

Join Us in Making a Difference:

This promotion is more than just an opportunity to enhance your art collection; it's a chance to be part of something larger, something impactful. By donating, you're supporting a vital cause and embracing the spirit of giving that has the power to create lasting change.

Take advantage of this incredible chance to win a unique piece of art while making a positive difference. Donate today, and let's make a difference for all pituitary patients together!

For more details and to make your donation, visit pituitaryworldnews.org

